

Ideopolis: Knowledge Cities

August 2008

This issue features:

- What's new: Ideopolis City Leaders Network, Ideopolis II Final Report, Party Conferences
- Recent Publications: Ideopolis II Final Report
- Future Publications: HE/FE paper, The impact of the knowledge economy on city labour markets
- Getting Involved: Ideopolis City Leaders Network
- Events: The Credit Crunch, Lord Digby Jones Breakfast, The Future of the University in the Knowledge Economy
- Keeping in touch

WHAT'S NEW?

- We are recruiting for our unique City Leaders Network for 2008-2009 – full details of membership can be found on our website <http://www.theworkfoundation.com/research/ideopolis/network.aspx>. Topics for Network events will include The Credit Crunch and Embedding Anchor Institutions in Cities. We have invited some fantastic speakers for these and Sir Michael Parkinson has agreed to speak at our first event. Please contact Sarah Barnett if you would like to talk about the Network in more detail.
- The Ideopolis Team will be present at all three Party Conferences this year within a unique integrated programme of events on urban issues under the collective partnership of The Urban Hub, see here for details. The partners within the Urban Hub, along with The Work Foundation, are the Centre for Cities, RIBA (the Royal Institute of British Architects), CABA (the Commission on Architecture and the Built Environment) and the Core Cities Group. The party conference programme will cover a wide range of urban issues, including housing and transport to the impact of recent economic turbulence on cities.

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

- How can cities thrive in the changing economy? is available to download. Please contact Alexandra Jones or Sarah Barnett if you have any questions or thoughts on this paper. The press release is available here.

The report pulls together our Ideopolis research from the year, reviews which cities have become more or less productive over the last ten years, and highlights the likely impact of the credit crunch on different cities.

FUTURE PUBLICATIONS

- The role of higher and further education in cities in the knowledge economy report will be available from The Work Foundation website for download from mid-September.
- The impact of the knowledge economy on city labour markets. We have been looking at three medium-sized cities and tracking how their economy and industrial structure have changed over the last twenty years. What have the consequences of economic restructuring been for less-skilled workers? How have cities managed these consequences? This report will be published in October 2008.

GETTING INVOLVED

We are now taking new members for the 2008-2009 Ideopolis City Leaders Network. Between October 2008 and September 2009, the network will be offering:

- Five events on key issues affecting cities.
In the pilot phase events covered distinctiveness and local economic strategies; skills and city labour markets; and, who runs a city. Members will have the opportunity to shape the format and focus of events. We would also be keen for members to participate as speakers, for example giving a presentation on how you transformed your city centre
- Five snapshot analyses
Short papers or bespoke quantitative analysis on hot topics will be pre-released to network members before publication. For example, an update on which areas are increasing their knowledge based businesses at the fastest rate and how this links to other economic indicators.
- Monthly update emails
These will include event write-ups, highlights of external research publications and responses to public policy announcements.
- A complimentary place at the 2009 Ideopolis Conference
- Access to a growing case study database of best practice by UK and international cities
- Online resources
- Access to The Work Foundation's Ideopolis Team

More details on the network can be found here. Please contact Sarah Barnett if your organisation is interested in joining.

EVENTS

- In Conversation with Lord Digby Jones - Breakfast event at The Work Foundation, 3 September 2008
- The Credit Crunch – Ideopolis City Leaders Network Event, The Work Foundation, 16 October 2008.
- The New Enlightenment? The Future of the University in the Knowledge Economy, 1 Day Conference, Central London, 11 November 2008.

A full list of The Work Foundation's events can be found on our website:

www.theworkfoundation.com/events.aspx

KEEPING IN TOUCH

We will continue to keep you updated on the latest developments in our research every month, however do look at The Work Foundation's website for more details of areas on which we are working and information on how to work with us. Please send any questions or comments to Sarah Barnett.

If you would prefer not to receive a monthly update please reply to this email inserting the word REMOVE in the subject line.